Going at it Right

Judge Daniel co-operating with interested citizens is making up subscription money to cut down the Bird Adams' hill on the Stanton road. The plan is for the county pay one-half and the people half. This is what may be called community aid. We have had State aid and its flood of law suits, and Federal aid talk too, but in our judgment the county and people co-operating is the only way for Powell to get the roads that it wants. No one objects to all the road aid the county can get from all sources. In fact we welcome Federal aid State aid, but we think it is time to try out Community aid too.

Wins Two Games

The Clay City Ball Team won two games Sunday. This team first defeated the Bell Point boys on the home grounds by a score of five to four. In the afternoon the home boys went to Mt. Sterling and there carried off the game by a score of sixteen to two.

There will be no more ball games played in Clay City in the morning, account the temptation of the boys who go to Sunday school to desert the school and go to the ball game.

The line up of the Clay City team follows:

Skidmore, 3 b.
G. Martin, 1 b.
V. Martin, s. s.
Kennon, r. f.
Adams, c. f.
Knight, l. f.
S. Martin, 2 b.
Derickson, c.

Crowe, p. Clay City game
Halbert, p. Mt. Sterling game.
The Clay City team will go to Paris next Sunday looking for another victory.

Tractor Demonstration

Joe Mountz, the Ford agent, has been giving some splendid demonstrations this week with the Fordson tractor, by doing some valuable grading to our streets. The tractor gives the necessary pull for the county grader and is far better than 8 horses which never pull together, and which can pull only for a short time without resting. The tractor gives a strong steady pull all the time.

Prompt Adjustment

W. R. Eubank, agent for the Continental Fire Insurance Company, together with Mr. Wells adjuster for this company, were here Friday and adjusted the loss of a barn belonging to T. L. Conlee which was burned just one week before. This is in keeping with the company's usual promptness in adjusting fire losses.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church will have on sale at the store of Wm. Mountz, Sr. Saturday the 14th, pies, cakes, ham sandwiches, coffee and ice cream.

Brodhead-Garrett's Planing Mill Closes Down

Brodhead-Garrett's big planing mill, of this city, closed down Monday for an indefinite time. The closing of this plant throws quite a number of men out of employment, but the closing is at a time of the year when all laborers can get out and farm for a living. The labor and farming situation is very bad here. Farm products off 50 per cent., and all the labor thrown on the farm under such conditions, is anything but encouraging. But the best that can be done is to raise as much of what we have to eat as possible.

Bank Report

In this issue will be found the intermittent report of the condition of the Clay City National Bank. This is by far the best report ever published by this bank. It shows deposits amounting to more than $595,000. There is more than $200,000.00 in cash and on deposit with reserves to care for any emergency that may arise during the present congested period. If you are looking for safety to deposit your funds, you have no further to go than to the Clay City National Bank.

Crabtree Sells Farm

W. H. Conn, of Jessamine county, has purchased of H. G. Crabtree the Millie Skinner place in Waltersville for $2,100, and will move there. Jack Conn and Mrs. A. M. Holmes, of this city, are children of Mr. Conn, Sr. The Times extends a most hearty welcome to Mr. Conn and family into our midst.

Wet Weather

The continued wet weather is throwing farmers back in this county considerably. The wet weather is also very hard on our new road, especially now since so many big heavily loaded trucks pass over it. Such large trucks should be legislated against traveling over any kind of road except brick or concrete.

Fruit, Fish and Frolic

Dr. J. E. Leming, who spent the winter in Florida, has returned. He says Orlando, where he was stationed, is a splendid town to stop in. There is a bountiful supply of fruit there, but the market is very slow on account of the high freight rates prevailing. He says the order of the day there is fruit, fish and frolic.

Mrs. Russell Improving

Mrs. Jennie Russell now confined at the Gibson Infirmary, Richmond has taken a change for the better. Her relatives here have been advised that her doctor expected her to be able to sit up a little Wednesday for the first time since the operation several weeks ago.

Several shale men representing different companies have been with us this week. The Times is still hoping for some real development.

"My Old Kentucky Home."

There is a plan on foot to purchase the old homestead known as Federal Hill in Nelson county which is the place where Steve Foster wrote the famous song, "My Old Kentucky Home." A. T. Whitt is Chairman for Powell county. Any one desiring to aid in the purchase of this old home may hand Mr. Whitt their contribution. The place is to be dedicated and cared for as a memento of the sentiments embraced in the song sung and admired by every true and loyal Kentuckian.

New Ruling on Appointment of 4th Class Postmasters.

President Wilson's order for selection of first, second and third class postmasters under Civil Service requirements has been modified by President Harding, giving wider field from which postmasters may be chosen.

Instead of being required to select the candidate standing highest in civil service examination for any specific postmastership, the Administration may give the place to any one of three at the head of the qualified list.

Sam Mize Rents Farm

Sam Mize has rented the Barnett farm near Vaughn's Mill from the heirs and will move there to live. For several years Mr. Mize has resided at Akron, Ohio, where he has held a responsible position with one of the tire manufacturing companies, but has a longing for a home in old Kentucky. He and his good wife have a most hearty welcome back in the old county of Pewell.

The King Sale

The public sale of H. C. King at Vaughn's Mill Saturday was well attended and all articles sold well, the bidding being very spirited. Col. Ray Rowland, auctioneer, reports the following sales: One pair mules and harness, $390.00; one cow and calf, $152.00; one cow, $50.00; hogs from $9.00 to $37.50; one two horse wagon, $80.00; one range, $76.00; canned goods 20 cents to 60 cents per quart can.

Candidates Galore

Candidates were thick at the King sale Saturday. They were all in glee and fun and each one felt sure he would win the race in August. Gee, what a jolly bunch. The Times regret that there is not an office for all of them around.

Barn Burned

Mrs. Fannie Williams had a barn to burn in this city Saturday morning. The origin of the fire was not known. Sparks from the fire came near setting Mrs. E. N. Wilson's residence on fire two or three times, but each time was quickly put out.

The Rev. Sherman Robbins will preach on Black creek Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday morning and Sunday night. Prof. John a Rogers, the noted singing master, of Powell

Prohibitive Freight Rates

A local shipment of sand from Lexington recently cost one of our Clay City people $8.00 the freight on it was $10.00. It costs more to ship potatoes from Chicago by car load than the potatoes cost. The greatest burden to the people today is railroad freight charges. It should be stopped. When the price of farm products is cut in two and the freight on them doubled, we think it is time for our legislators to sit up and take another look.

Takes Marble Agency

A. P. Johnson has taken the agency for the Standard Marble Co. at Rome, Ga. and is ready to supply any kind of monumental work or markers. The Standard is a strong company and supplies first quality of work. Those needing monumental work should see Mr. Johnson and patronize the home agent.

Mr. Christopher Home Again

R. S. Christopher returned to his home at Spout Spring Monday morning, just recovering from the operation several days ago for abscess on the head.

The ground was speckled with large drops of hail this afternoon following a downpour of rain. The drops were large and more hail fell than at any one time for quite a while.

The Ladies Aid entertained the men of the Methodist church Friday evening. An interesting program was enjoyed and light refreshments were served.

county, is expected to be present and conduct the singing.

James W. Crowe, of Eaton, Colo., is here for a short visit to his uncle, Ben Noe. Mr. Crowe has been in Colorado for fifteen years past.

T. G. White is in Mt. Vernon to attend the trial of John Bailey for the killing of his brother, Bev White, in Knox county a few weeks ago.

Norvel Wireman was here Tuesday from Rosslyn. Mr. Wireman has a daughter just returned from Indianapolis, Ind. where she has undergone two operations for tuberculosis of the bone. The experts of that city think they will be able to cure Miss Wireman of her serious trouble.

McKinney, left their home in San Antonio, Texas, April 11th and went on train to New Orleans, La., and came by sea from there to N. Y., where at Rochester they visited Mr. Zuern's old home. It was thought the sea ride would be of benefit to Mrs. Zuern's health, which has not lately been very good. They came to Lexington, where they had shipped their automobile by rail, and from there to Clay City in their machine.

that interest in the Stanton College will grow until there will be needed extra rooms to care for the pupils and we regret very much that every parent in Powell county could not have heard the splendid address delivered by Prof. George M. Baker, of Kentucky University yet with a deeper feeling we regret that a majority of the parents of Kentucky could not be schooled by him for at least ten years. He pointed out very clearly why Kentucky is rated as forty-first state in education and why we have two state prisons and so many loafers and why our best teachers leave the state. It is politics and neglect of parents. We have as good material as any state but this part is smothered out by sending men to legislature that can be bought, pulled and hauled about and often illiterate not knowing perhaps when they cast their vote or for what, keeping the salaries so small that teachers can not live and therefore the best class go to other states that pay a living salary. Kentucky can't claim poverty now as in years past for new industries are opening up and it is to be hoped we will awaken and use them in the way and manner God intended, and that parents will grow more strict and instead of giving an unruly child a free reign, and turning him or her loose to be a criminal or an idiot give the rod freely, and if a child is taught right from the beginning there is not much need for the rod and often the parent is the one that deserves to be punished.

Stop for a moment and think, if you please. If there is not a check what will be the outcome in fifty years hence? Prof. Baker spoke on the evil of the movies, of course we people of Powell county so far are spared this but won't be in the fu-

Thrift or Spendthrift, Which?

Our fathers knew the meaning of thrift, but their example has been forgotten. It is no longer the age of thrift. It is the period of spendthrift. We find this everywhere. It is easy to make money, but hard to save it, and the spender is always in the majority.

The thrifty are mocked and laughed at and reviled. Extravagance is having its golden day. It shines with the blaze of glory. It dazzles the eye and quickens the pulse, but there is a day of reckoning unheeded and unthought of. And now we are to fall back to the example of the simple life. We are to be reminded of the advantage of thrift. It is high time visionary theorists are wasting efforts on ideals too lofty to be reached. The reformers are waging the impossible and impracticable and demagogues are leading the crowds along the highway of unreason, unrest and unbelief. It is a pleasure to turn from all these to welcome a nation-wide movement for a revival of American thrift. It originates with bankers whose own career illustrates the lesson he would teach. It was born in the great western metropolis, Chicago, and is already becoming a national movement. It should be preached in the pulpit, it should be taught in the schools and advocated from the rostrum.

Thrift does not mean a pinchy, miserless on the hardship of great self-denial. It means the lessening of extravagance. The cutting off of. Use less expenditures, the cultivation of the saving habit and preparation in time of prosperity for the inevitable hour of need.

Think of it! A billion dollars a year spent in the United States on indulgences which not only cannot be described as sane pleasures but which do positive and moral harm. This is the language of Mr. S. W. Straus, chairman of the organization committee of the American Society for thrift. He adds this striking comment on present day conditions: We are swayed by the agitators and demagogues. Strikes and hard times will result. We yell for a condition which does not demand thrift. We want system which will enable us to become spendthrifts, to satisfy every whim and follow every fashion; but we will never get it. The world and life are not built on those lines. The new society will find plenty of work to do. Thrift to the American people means better and higher living, nobler aspirations, a greater sense of personal responsibility, more worshipers in the churches and smaller crowds in the dance halls and vile places of amusement.

Thrift means larger deposits in the savings banks, greater investments in reliable securities, fewer victims of the get-rich-quick schemers, better homes, a happier and more contented people, and above all, a returning sense of appreciation of the manifold blessings showered upon the American people by an ever kind and indulgent Providence.

Card of Thanks

As we cannot see everyone who ministered unto our beloved child and sister, Mrs. Carrie King, in time of need, we wish to extend our sincere thanks through the columns of the Times, our much beloved paper. She often spoke of her Powell county friends and home, and said she wanted to get well and go back to thank every one of those good men, who helped carry her to the train, and the good neighbors who were so kind to her. She has gone to a better world. Her mother prays the Lord will raise up friends in time of need for every one of you. We also appreciate the kindness and sympathy of our friends of Clark county shown us in our dark hour by their presence and sweet remembrance of flowers. May the Lord show mercy and love to you
